

GLOSSARY

C

current the rate at which electric charges move through a given area (694)

D

drift velocity the net velocity of a charge carrier moving in an electric field (697)

R

resistance the opposition to the flow of charge in a conductor (700)

S

superconductor a material whose resistance is zero at or below some critical temperature, which varies with each material (706)